Guaranteed Best Bets

UTSA +14 AT MARSHALL

UTSA did its job for us last week by folding against the Houston fast moving offense, and while battled brilliantly for a half, was overcome in the 2nd half as has been their downfall this season, but won't be the case against Marshall here, who lacks speed, and overall fitness to wear down an equally capable UTSA squad with wins this season all on the road at UTEP and New Mexico, while MARSHALL has only been on the plus side against Miami Ohio, and Gardner Webb. UTSA also taking a big dip in class here making them a great fit. UTSA has battled exceptionally well against the likes of Oklahoma State, Arizona, Houston. Price inflated - grab it as UTSA WINS 31-28

NEAR PERFECT SUPER SYSTEM PLAY

Talk about a tough loss here last week as Arkansas State missed the gold by a point in their loss to Missouri . So its bounce back time, even though I compensated everyone last week who paid attention to another 2-0 sweep on TOTALS for a 7-0 mark on the NFL season to date. This week lets stay in the NFL for our super system play of the week and before taking care of business at hand, don't blow a superb money making opportunity by signing up NOW for Rockys OCTOBERFEST PACKAGE—a sensational money maker over the years gone by—all games, all locks, all Wise Guyz - everything under the sun through the entire month, all sports for just $349 complete. Considering all the bonus coverage included makes this too good to pass up, as all MEGABUCK games are in, along with the worlds greatest CONSENSUS reports and NEWSLETTER downloads that simply can't be beat. ### 10* NEWSLETTER GAME OF THE WEEK

BAYLOR -27 OVER WEST VIRGINIA

Another blowout in the cards for all readers this week as Baylor totally prepped after a bye week, while WV somehow beat OSU outright last week despite being outgained again on the field of play. Baylor put up 63 on West Virginia last season on the road, and now in revenge, Bears 5-1 ATS in conference revenge, while the Mounties are a meager 0-7 road dog of +4 or more when facing a team with revenge. Considering that WV has really been a BUST this season, putting up 7 at Oklahoma and getting ripped by Maryland on the road by 38 isn't a great situation to be in. Baylor has rung up 69 or more points this season in EVERY GAME to date, and has a magnificent 12-1 mark at home ATS, among those wins, an outright victory over then #1 in the nation Kansas State in an impressive 52-24 rout, Can't see West Virginia being in this contest for any length of time, inept on road, coming in off remarkable double dig dog win, and facing a hungry Bear looking to feast again off a bye. BAYLOR 64-17
